Hello guest, according to your input, building Coast Hall, the closest lots to you are lot 28, lot 29, and lot 42

One second....
